Bicyclist dies in crash at Pinole Regional Shoreline

A 67-year-old man died Tuesday following an afternoon bicycle crash at Point Pinole Regional Shoreline, police said.

Raymundo Quijano, of Richmond, was on the Pinole Point Trail — the park's main artery — about a mile from the main parking lot when he was found lying on the ground about 12:50 p.m., according to East Bay Regional Park District Police.

Quijano was flown to John Muir Medical Center with major head trauma and died from his injuries, police said.

Police are investigating the accident and ask anyone with information to contact Detective Sgt. Tyrone Davis at 510-690-6554.
